Inglewood North American Aviation Kennedy Connections

Michael LeMoyne Kennedy a son of Robert F. Kennedy who with Paul Schrade of North American Aviation was shot not far from Inglewood at that Embassador Hotel. Sonny Bono a close friend of the Kennedy's in Los Angles Peter Lawford and Patricia Kennedy and the son of Santo Bono assembly line worker moved from Detroit Packard Motors to Inglewood for building the P-51. Chauncy Marvin Holt confessing to the CIA assaination of JFK plotted at the CIA meeting location of Ryan Ryan's Berumuda Dunes hotel in Palm Springs near the CIA planes modfication location at the Grace Ranch Arizona. James Donegan and Robert F. Kenenedy seemed to told the story in document and in a movie about Fighter Control Radio and the story of WW II using F-86 jets of North American Aviation now showcased as replating the P-51 to defector Olga. RADAR is also referred to as a war factors.

The deaths correlate to revalations in the JFK RFK assasainations

Chauncey Marvin Holt (October 23, 1921 – June 28, 1997) was an American known for claiming to be one of the "three tramps" photographed in Dealey Plaza shortly after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Days before his death he was interviewed on television about being one of the tramps and his identtity was confirmed by Lois Gibson.

Spooks, Hoods and the Hidden Elite 2099 · 1 hr 59 min TV-14 Documentary features the 1992 confession of Holt about Harrelson and himself corroborated by Lois Gibson Forensics, the onscreen interviews at Dealey Plaza in 1996 1997 just before his death and at that time provideing the document dump also in his later released book on William King Harvey and others running the assasination job and making one of their own anti-Castro operatives (deep cover Lee Harvey Oswald) their patsy. This had plenty of television time and newspaper headlines as Holt was in his final days of life.

Michael LeMoyne Kennedy (February 27, 1958 – December 31, 1997) was an American lawyer, businessman, and activist in Massachusetts. He was the sixth of eleven children of Robert F. Kennedy and Ethel Kennedy. Kennedy also served as the manager of the non-profit organization Citizens Energy. He died in Aspen, Colorado, in 1997 after inadvertently skiing into a tree.

Sonny Bono died five days later on January 5, 1998, of injuries incurred when he hit a tree while skiing at Heavenly Mountain Resort in South Lake Tahoe, California. Bono died on January 5, 1998, of injuries incurred when he hit a tree while skiing at Heavenly Mountain Resort in South Lake Tahoe, California.

Born Salvatore Phillip Bono on February 16, 1935, in Detroit, Michigan, he grew up in a family of Sicilian immigrants and moved to Los Angeles around age 7 in 1942 the hear of Pearl Harbor and Paul Schrade Joseph Kennedy Sr. North American Aviation P-51 production.

C:\Users\eddonegan\OneDrive\Documents\AlistBooks\Book Internals\GreatTreason\Silenced.html:1772: Sonny was the youngest of three siblings; he had two sisters, Fran and Betty. The family moved to Inglewood, California, when he was seven, and his parents divorced soon afterward.

Sonny Bono's family moved to the Los Angeles area when he was seven years old, according to Britannica and TCM. He was born in Detroit on February 16, 1935, and his family relocated to Los Angeles, where he later pursued his career in music and entertainment. He also became involved in politics, eventually serving as mayor of Palm Springs and then as a U.S. Representative for California.

Sonny Bono a freind of Peter Lawford, a Roman Catholic and reformer much like Leo Ryan was researching WACO and other activities when he died. As Infowars Bob Fletcher observed Bonno who hated the Mob and represented Palm Springs as he served on US House of Representatives OVersight thought he finally had the evidence he needed. But on what?

Sonny Bono died in a skiing accident by some reports engineered by thugs or rather the thugs killed Bono and staged the accident the same week a Kennedy died, the same way. Ted Gunderson and Ed Donegan assert these were attempts to preempt witnesses to the JFK assassination.

Ted Gunderson did not believe that Sonny Bono died in a skiing accident. Instead, Gunderson alleged that top officials linked to an international drug and weapons ring feared the singer-turned-politician was about to expose their crimes - so they had

Sonny murdered on the ski slopes and staged the result as an accident.

CIA and DIA connected Robert Fletcher has testified in the US Congress and worked for Sonny Bono and that office on CIA corruption. Among the documents the news crew were investigating Holt had provided was the Palm Springs meeting at Bermuda Dunes with Sam Giancana, Holt, and Johny Roselli, and William Harvey.

For Americans, the new revelations about Bono and others can be found buried away-and ignored by "respectable people"-in the U.S. supermarket tabloid, Globe, of April 14, which hit the news racks on April 4. They were said to have been gathered by investigator Bob Fletcher, 66, who, according to Globe, was connected to the case even before Bono died:

> He also feels partially responsible for what happened to the California congressman.

> Before Bono's death, Fletcher had been probing the activities of high ranking U.S. military and government officials he claims were raking in millions from arms and drug deals in Central America and Southeast Asia.
> He says he sent his shocking findings of corruption, including videotaped evidence, to Bono.
> "I later received a call from an assistant in his offices to tell me Sonny had seen my full report and was absolutely livid about the level of corruption I made him aware of," Fletcher tells GLOBE.
> "He was going to make it his No. 1 priority when Congress resumed after the Christmas and New Year break. He was going to go after the biggest names.
> "Just 10 days later, I received a call that he was dead. I'd heard it was suspected his offices had been bugged. Tragically, that must have been the case. There's no doubt in my mind Sonny was murdered by someone who needed to silence him."
>
> The new evidence is the long-suppressed autopsy report, itself, which Fletcher obtained and furnished to Globe.
> After reviewing the shocking secret documents, former FBI agent Ted Gunderson tells GLOBE: "The official version of Sonny Bono's death is hogwash. It's nonsense for anyone to now try to suggest that Bono died after crashing into a tree.
> There's zero evidence in this autopsy report or any of these official documents to show such an accident happened. Instead, there's powerful proof he was assassinated. "This was an evil plot that was carried out to almost perfection by ruthless assassins."

Even though two of the online Australian newspapers attribute their article to "staff writers," it's the same short article in The Australian, Mercury (The Voice of Tasmania), and The Daily Telegraph (first two links now dead), beginning:

> SONNY Bono, former husband and singing partner of superstar Cher, was clubbed to death by hitmen on the orders of drug and weapons dealers who feared he was going to expose them, a former FBI agent claims.
> Ted Gunderson, now a private investigator, has told the US Globe tabloid that Bono, who served as mayor of Palm Springs for four years, did not die after hitting a tree on a Nevada ski slope in January 1998 as everyone believed.

> Tragic rocker Sonny Bono was clubbed to death by hired hitmen, according to a stunning new tabloid expose. An investigator who has been researching Bono's 1998 fatal skiing accident for the past decade claims top officials linked to an international drug and weapons ring feared the singer-turned-politician was about to expose their criminal acts - and so they had him killed on the slopes.
> Cher's ex-husband Bono's death was listed as a "skiing accident" with family and friends satisfied he died after colliding with a tree on the piste in Nevada in January 1998. But former Fbi agent Ted Gunderson tells America's Globe that there's more to the tragedy than meets the eye, after studying the autopsy reports and other evidence. He says, "It's nonsense for anyone to now try to suggest that Bono died after crashing into a tree. There's zero evidence in this autopsy report... to show such an accident happened. Instead, there's powerful proof he (Bono) was assassinated.
> "This was an evil plot that was carried out to almost perfection by ruthless assassins."

Gunderson tells the Globe Bono, an experienced skiier, was ambushed on the slopes by hired hitmen, who beat him to death and then staged a tree collision. The retired Fbi agent is now calling for the authorities to dig up Bono's remains and open a homicide investigation. Gunderson's efforts have been backed by top forensics experts, who fear Nevada authorities were too quick to mark the tragedy as a skiing accident, and investigator Bob Fletcher, who has confessed he sent evidence of a 10-year study that linked top U.S. government officials to arms and weapons dealers to Bono less than a month before his death.

Fletcher says, "He was going to make it his number one priority... There's no doubt in my mind Sony was murdered by someone who needed him silenced".. - https://www.imdb.com/name/nm2521832/news/

Bob Fletcher and Ted Gunderson are two individuals who have been linked through a shared interest in controversial theories and investigations, particularly concerning alleged government misconduct

Ted Gunderson was a retired FBI agent who gained notoriety for his investigations into various conspiracy theories, including claims of Satanic ritual abuse and government involvement in assassinations. CIA programs and Sleeper agents and child selections in McMartin School and Franklin Boystown for use oversees]

Bob Fletcher is an investigator who has publicly supported some of Gunderson's claims and has himself been involved in investigations into alleged government corruption and criminal activity.

One notable instance of their connection involves the death of Sonny Bono, the entertainer and politician. Gunderson alleged Bono was murdered by hitmen and Fletcher supported this claim, stating he had sent Bono evidence linking government officials to arms dealers shortly before his death. - AI Search > Bono, an experienced skier, was ambushed on the slopes by hired hitmen, who beat him to death and then staged a tree collision, Mr. Gunderson said.

> He called for authorities to dig up Bono's remains and open a homicide investigation.
> His claims have reportedly been backed by top forensics experts who fear Nevada authorities were too quick to call the death a skiing accident.

The Australian papers, it should also be noted, leave the impression that Gunderson is the prime mover in this investigation while only mentioning Fletcher at the end of their article as follows:

> Investigator Bob Fletcher had also confessed he sent evidence of a 10-year study that linked top US government officials to arms and weapons dealers to Bono less than a month before his death, the Globe reported.
> "(Bono) was going to make it his No.1 priority … There's no doubt in my mind Sonny was murdered by someone who needed him silenced," Mr Fletcher told the paper.

In an email to me on May 13, 2008, Mr. Fletcher was emphatic that Gunderson "has had absolutely nothing to do with this investigation." (The foregoing section, starting with "The Australian papers …," was added on May 13.)

Interestingly, Yahoo also picked up the story, but it is Yahoo for the United Kingdom and Ireland and Yahoo for Australia (both links now dead). It would appear that Yahoo is as compliant toward corrupt American authorities as it is toward their counterparts in China.

The Autopsy

How compelling is the new evidence? The five-page autopsy report prepared by Dr. David E. Palosaari, official pathologist for Washoe County at the time, concluded that the death was caused by "craniocerebral injuries due to blunt force trauma (skiing accident)."

But Globe reports further:

> Other injuries detailed in the document included a black eye, swollen lips, bloody nose, bruised jaw, and two upper teeth knocked out, all on the right side of the head.
>
> But the pathologist also noted a series of small fractures in a "central depressed region" on the right side of Bono's skull and found "some of the fractured bone pieces have a curved configuration."
>
> Fletcher consulted a panel of experts and performed a re-creation to determine how these wounds were caused.
> He concludes the depressed area was due to blows from a rounded-edged weapon wielded by a man taller than the 5-foot-nine, 165-pound politician and the killer was left-handed since the wounds are on the right side of Bono's face and head. He also believes there was a second man who held Bono from behind.
> Fletcher thinks the murder weapon was a pistol, but other experts tell GLOBE that a gun barrel would have left distinguishable marks.

"Sonny was ambushed and viciously battered to death with a billy club or similar weapon," ex-FBI man Gunderson says. "The killers staged the crime scene and made it look like a tragic ski-accident."

Fletcher insists the lack of damage to the back of Bono's brain, known as "contra-coup" injuries, is proof that he was beaten to death. He says people who hit objects face-first normally have brain injuries caused when the organ rebounds off the back of their skull. And other physical evidence doesn't add up, either, he says.

contra-coup
https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File:Coup_injury.jpg

An entire brain moving to a frontal impact collapses into the impact then rebounds back. A blow into the front a brain not in motion damges the brain only at point of impact.

Strangely for what was called a ski accident, Bono had no smashed ribs, broken knees, neck trauma-or hand injuries that would have come from trying to ward off a collision with a tree, Fletcher says. And signs that he actually hit the tree-including bark impressions on his face and plant debris on his clothes-are also missing, the investigator says.

And his ski goggles weren't smashed as they likely would have been in a collision, according to the expert.

Fletcher also notes the back of Bono's clothes were [sic] soaked with blood-but he had no back wounds. "The blood must have come from someone else, perhaps when Sonny valiantly fought back and hit one of his assailants," he declares.

The autopsy also mentions a small L-shaped tear on the back of Bono's black and purple Fila ski jacket. Fletcher says the tear is a likely result of a struggle. And Gunderson believes the new evidence gathered by Fletcher raises the specter of murder and warrants a new investigation.

Fletcher believes that Bono's wife when they became famous together, Cher, will call for a new investigation when she learns of these new revelations. Little hope is held out, apparently, that she will be joined by Mary Bono, Sonny's wife at the time of his death. Mary, who succeeded Sonny in the Congress and has remarried, has suggested publicly that his errant skiing was caused by Sonny having taken too many prescription painkillers. But that suggestion had already been contradicted by a previously-released toxicology report, said Globe. Their marriage, which was Sonny's fourth, was said to have been troubled at the time of his death.

Sonny's mother, Jean, on the other hand, believed all along that he was murdered. She died in 2005, but not before demanding "a much more thorough investigation" into his death, according to Globe.

Santo may not have been at liberty to speak if he knew too much about the CIA history of the P-51 or other planes in Latin America or elsewhere or classified matters. The wife of Santo did express the belief Sonny Bono was murdered and lived as the wife of the Packard Motors assembly line worker likely reporting in union matters to UAW Union leader Paul Schrade .

Bob Fletcher insists the lack of damage to the back of Bono's brain, known as "contra-coup" injuries, is proof that he was beaten to death. He says people who hit objects face-first normally have brain injuries caused when the organ rebounds off the back of their skull. And other physical evidence doesn't add up, either, he says. The agreement to have Packard Motor Car Company manufacture the Rolls-Royce Merlin engine under license was reached in September 1940. This decision was driven by the urgent wartime need to expand production beyond the UK, and Packard was chosen for its reputation for precision engineering and manufacturing quality. The first Packard-built Merlin engine, designated V-1650-1, ran in August 1941, and later versions—especially the V-1650-3 with a two-stage supercharger—were key to transforming the P-51 Mustang into a high-altitude escort fighter capable of accompanying bombers deep into enemy territory. It also played a major role defending (alongside the Supermarin Spitfires with these same engines) defending London in GB's Finest Hour.

Early life, family, and education

Michael LeMoyne Kennedy was born on February 27, 1958, in Washington, D.C. He was named LeMoyne for Kirk LeMoyne Billings, the preparatory school roommate of his paternal uncle, John F. Kennedy, and a Kennedy family friend. He was five years old when his uncle was assassinated and ten years old when his father was assassinated. Kennedy spent his childhood between the family's homes in McLean, Virginia, and Hyannis Port, Massachusetts.

Kennedy graduated from Harvard College in 1980 and subsequently earned his Juris Doctor from the University of Virginia School of Law in 1984. In 1985, Kennedy was admitted to the Massachusetts bar.

Kennedy married Victoria Denise Gifford, daughter of former NFL player and sportscaster Frank Gifford, on March 14, 1981 in New York City. They had one son, Michael LeMoyne Kennedy Jr. (b. 1983); and two daughters, Kyle Francis Kennedy (b. 1984) and Rory Gifford Kennedy (b. 1987). The family resided in Cohasset, Massachusetts. - https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Michael_L._Kennedy

Witnesses told CNN that the family members, including Michael Kenned, were playing a form of ski football and were not using ski poles as they skied at about 4:15 p.m. (6:15 p.m. EST).

The Aspen Mountain Ski Patrol reportedly had warned the family that such activity was too dangerous.

One witness, Couri Hay, told the New York Daily News he saw the Kennedy's playing football on skis, using a snow-packed water bottle as a ball, when the accident happened. Hay said Michael Kennedy went out for a pass, caught the ball and slammed head-first into the tree.

Kennedy had been recording the game on video, skiing and taping at the same time, Hay said. https://web.archive.org/web/20150519013049/http://edition.cnn.com/US/9801/01/kennedy.obit.update/

Robert Couri Hay (born April 1949) is an American publicist and gossip columnist.[1] Initially working for Andy Warhol among the original contributing editors to Interview magazine, his reporting subsequently appeared in People, Town & Country, and CNN Films documentary Hamptons, with contributions to Women's Wear Daily and New York newspapers.[2] Recent appearances in documentary retrospectives include Halston (2019)[3] and The Andy Warhol Diaries (2022) on Netflix.

Is there some connection to Brigid Berlin, Jed Johnson, Patty Hearst, and TWA Flight 800? Was the video despostive as to the nature of the accident?

"There was blood all over the snow," he said. Hay added: "Several of the Kennedys were on their knees saying the Lord's Prayer."

Jed Johnson (December 30, 1948 – July 17, 1996) was an American interior designer and film director. The New York Times hailed Johnson as "one of the most celebrated interior designers of our time."

In 1968, Johnson arrived in New York from California and was hired to perform odd jobs at Andy Warhol's Factory. After Warhol survived an assassination attempt, Johnson moved in with him to aid in his recovery, and they had a romantic partnership for 12 years.

Inspired by Warhol, Johnson developed an interest in photography. In 1969, his photographs were featured in artist Al Hansen's underground magazine Kiss, for which Warhol wrote a gossip column. Later that year, he became a staff photographer for Warhol's Interview magazine.

Sonny Bono's family moved to the Los Angeles area when he was seven years old, according to Britannica and TCM. He was born in Detroit on February 16, 1935, and his family relocated to Los Angeles, where he later pursued his career in music and entertainment. Rosie the Riveter and the Pacific Rim: a story of wartime labor and lasting change Rosie the Riveter, the iconic symbol of American women working in defense industries during World War II, played a crucial role in supporting the Pacific Rim war effort.

Here's how: Filling Labor Gaps: As American men went off to fight in the Pacific and other war theaters, women stepped into critical roles previously held by men, filling labor shortages in factories and shipyards across the U.S.

Wartime Production on the West Coast: The West Coast, with its booming wartime industries like shipbuilding, became a key hub for war production destined for the Pacific. Women working in these West Coast factories and shipyards were vital to supplying troops and equipment for the war against Japan. Aviation Industry's Reliance on Women: The aviation industry, experiencing a surge in demand for aircraft, saw the largest increase in female workers, employing over 310,000 women by 1943. These women built and assembled the planes used in the Pacific theater.

Propaganda and Patriotism: The government actively recruited women, using campaigns like the "Rosie the Riveter" campaign, to encourage their participation in the workforce and appeal to their sense of patriotic duty. -AI Meeanwhile Joseph Kennedy Sr now former ambaasador to GB was getting unioin agreements at FORE River steal ship builderso in the Boston Harbor.

"Belcher and [Joe] Ball were partners, along with actors John Wayne and Fred MacMurray, in a luxurious house in Acapulco, next to Las Brisas. It was used almost like a time share for the men and their friends. Among the 'friends' were CIA contract agents and organized crime figures such as [Meyers] Lansky, [Peter] Licavoli, and [Doc} Stacher, who went there for meetings. I never did learn if Wayne and MacMurray were aware of the meetings taking place. It was an investment that paid off for all concerned, and they may not have been aware of anything more than the appreciation in the property's value prior to the partners' selling it."

Q. Who was Frank Belcher, Sr.? A. Frank Belcher, Sr. was one of the most powerful lawyers in California. He was, at one time, president of the California bar. He was related to J. A. Belcher, another of the CIA's properties. I have already alluded to his wife, Ruth, and his relationship to George Reynolds. More importantly, he was the de facto partner of Joe Ball, another powerful lawyer. Belcher and Ball very often represented co-defendants in trials. Since they were not actually partners they were able to avoid charges of conflict of interest. Belcher and Ball, along with John Wayne and Fred MacMurray owned a palatial house in Acapulco, which was used as a safe house for contract agents, card carrying agents and organized crime figures, such as Stacher, Lansky, Licavoli, Roselli, Giancana and others. Belcher was also a CIA asset. He and I maintained a joint back account at the Bank of America which served as a conduit for funds from many sources, legal and illegal.

Q. Did you withdraw large sums of cash from the joint bank account with Belcher to pay other contract agents? A. Yes. In fact I withdrew such large sums of cash that I was usually accompanied by Michael Harries, another contract agent and one of the most competent shooters and shooting instructors in the world, not only to receive his pay, in cash, but to serve as my bodyguard. Two guns are always better than one.

Compiled from Who Killed Bobby? The Unsolved Murder of Robert F. Kennedy O'Sullivan, Shane. Who Killed Bobby? : The Unsolved Murder of Robert F. Kennedy . Kindle Edition.

This has been a huge undertaking. In cross-referencing more than 70,000 pages of documents, I have made my best judgment, in good faith, on the evidence and witness statements. There was no room for a number of colorful characters who ultimately don't convince as possible accomplices. These include the late Jerry Owen, a preacher who told police he'd arranged to sell Sirhan a horse at the back of the Ambassador on the night of the shooting, providing a novel means of escape. I have focused instead on issues that I feel still have relevance if the case were to be reopened today. I hope this book will play a part in making that happen. As the remaining witnesses begin to pass away, it's now or never.

Author David Talbot notes that Bobby Kennedy became "America's first JFK assassination-conspiracy theorist" after his brother's death. In turn, the friends of Robert Kennedy have become some of the most vocal RFK assassination-conspiracy theorists. UAW official Paul Schrade, shot in the head while standing behind Kennedy in the pantry, has for nearly forty years led the campaign to get this case reopened. Attorney Frank Burns, off Kennedy's right shoulder, still insists that Sirhan could not have fired the fatal shot described in the autopsy report.

You will get a far more balanced view of the case here than the jurors did during the original trial, in large part due to the groundbreaking work of the authors before me in uncovering new evidence. I salute Robert Blair Kaiser, Bill Turner, Jonn Christian, Philip Melanson, Dan Moldea, and William Klaber, and hope my work here builds on their legacy. What seemed, at first, an open-and-shut case, is, in truth, beguilingly complex. This book does not solve the case, but it does, I hope, provide a comprehensive and disturbing reminder of why it must be urgently reopened.

On election eve, Kennedy collapsed from exhaustion in the middle of his final campaign speech in San Diego, so today he slept late at film director John Frankenheimer's beach home in Santa Monica. Taken with Kennedy's idealism, Frankenheimer had jumped on board the campaign, filming speeches and campaign spots, his handheld cameras capturing the exuberant crowds and renewed hope that greeted the senator from New York. The country was in turmoil. Eight weeks before, Martin Luther King, Jr., had been assassinated, sparking waves of rioting in American cities. The Vietnam War had polarized the country, and the burgeoning antiwar movement and Black Panther Party had become lightning rods for student revolt, racial unrest, and disenchantment with society.

Two Sundays before the primary, Pierre Salinger had organized a "fun lunch" for Kennedy at Frankenheimer's home on a rare day off. Shirley MacLaine was there with her brother, Warren Beatty. So, too, were crooner Andy Williams, composer Burt Bacharach, actress Angie Dickinson, astronaut John Glenn, and French writer Romain Gary with his wife, actress Jean Seberg, who'd earlier hosted fundraisers for the Black Panthers. Bobby had been surfing and sat shirtless and cross-legged on the floor, holding a glass of orange juice. "You know, don't you, that somebody's going to try to kill you?" Gary asked. Kennedy looked up slowly. "That's the chance I have to take. You've just got to give yourself to the people and trust them. From then on, either luck is with you or it isn't.

At the house in Malibu, John Frankenheimer pulled out in his Rolls-Royce Silver Cloud and drove the senator to the Ambassador Hotel in downtown Los Angeles. They arrived at eight fifteen and went directly to the Kennedy suite on the fifth floor, their base for the last six weeks of the campaign.

Kennedy was summoned from his fifth-floor suite and led toward an elevator at the end of the hall, to descend to the lobby and wade onstage through his jubilant supporters. But it was late, he was tired, and he didn't want to fight the crowds. He asked whether there was another route, and Uno Timanson, the hotel's VP of banquet and sales, led him to a service elevator, so he could take the back way down through the kitchen. A live ABC video feed picked up his loose entourage as they stepped out of the elevator and paused in a hallway, waiting for their cue as Kennedy's brother-in-law Steve Smith wrapped up his introductions.

Ethel adjusted the white handkerchief in Kennedy's breast pocket, flanked by former Los Angeles Rams football tackle Rosey Grier and Olympic decathlon champion Rafer Johnson, friends of the family helping out with crowd control on the campaign.

Former FBI agent Bill Barry, Kennedy's unarmed bodyguard, made a final route check, then gave the senator his cue, and the party moved forward through the kitchen. Timanson and Barry led the way, clearing a path with Kennedy advance man Jack Gallivan and hotel assistant maître d' Eddie Minasian.

The senator signed a poster for memorabilia collector Michael Wayne [son of John Wayne who Chauncey Holt implicates as part of the Kennedy assasination with Frank Belcher, both of them part f wartime PsyOps], shook hands with kitchen workers, and held up his left hand to block the lights of the television cameras. As he passed through a narrow serving pantry, he shook the outstretched hand of a tall young busboy, Juan Romero. Ten feet behind the line of waiters, Sirhan waited, balanced on a tray stacker. The senator turned right through swinging double doors into a hallway at the back of the Embassy Ballroom. To the cheers of the waiting crowd[.]

He [RFK] saluted Cesar Chavez and Dolores Huerta for the support of the Mexican American community, loyal to Kennedy for his support during the grape pickers' strike in Delano. He also thanked his friends in the black community, whose action programs in Watts echoed his own regeneration programs in Bedford-Stuyvesant in New York. He saluted Rafer Johnson and gentle giant Rosey Grier, "who said he'd take care of anybody who didn't vote for me"; and Paul Schrade of the United Auto Workers "for the effort he's made on behalf of the working man here in the state of California."

In the northwest corner of the pantry, just inside the swinging doors, kitchen staff crowded around a TV monitor to listen to the speech. There were about twenty people in the narrow passageway, half hotel staff and half press and "outsiders." Sirhan balanced precariously on the outside edge of a tray stacker, over by the ice machines.

Michael Anthony Morrison (November 23, 1934 – April 2, 2003), better known by his stage name Michael Wayne, was an American film producer and actor. He was the eldest son of actor John Wayne and his first wife, Josephine Saenz.

Biography

Born in Los Angeles, California, Wayne graduated from Loyola University in California in 1956 with a Business degree and served in the U.S. Air Force Reserve.

Wayne began his film career as a production assistant on the set of the John Ford film The Quiet Man in 1951. He joined his father's film production company, Batjac Productions, for The Alamo (1960) and became line producer for McLintock! (1963) and producer on many other John Wayne vehicles including Big Jake (1971) and Cahill U.S. Marshal (1973).

Wayne, who developed the reputation of being a good businessman, served on the board of the Motion Picture & Television Fund and was The John Wayne Foundation's president and chairman of the board. He also was founder and chairman of the board of the John Wayne Cancer Institute at Saint John's Health Center.

Wayne and his wife, Gretchen, had five children, son Christopher, daughters Alicia, Josephine, Maria, and Teresa. He died at the age of 68 of heart failure as the result of complications from lupus erythematosus, just two months before his mother's death.

Already in film work at or under the age of 18 by his graduation and USAF Reseres work did he participate in Jet Pilot 1957 (release date)?

Who better to be on set, a consultant to John Wayne and others for Jet Pilot 1957 a propognda film than James and GLorian Donegan who were part of the atomic bomning of Japan, the Cold War and interceptor pilots flying out fo ASTUGI in North American Aviation planes like the P-51 or F86 Saber?

Chauncey Holt- Born 1921 in Kentucky. Known to have artistic talent, was in the Air Force and was court martialed while serving in that armed forces branch. Knew hit man for the Detroit mob named Bob Zowick. Holt was an accountant for mobster Meyer Lansky in Miami, and was a member of the International Rescue Committee, which was a CIA group.

Charles Harrelson and Holt were Hobos. In fact the documents were shown to the TV News inerviewers and the TV investigative reporters at this time tried to reach out to connected peoople. Keep in mind Holt asserts the Palm Springs location of the CIA planning the JFK hit with Sam Giancana, William King Harvey, and others

CHAUNCEY HOLT'S STORY Holt admitted to printing Lee Harvey Oswald's Fair Play for Cuba leaflets while in California. He admitted to being on the street corner.rwith Oswald in New Orleans when the staged skirmish went on with Anti Castro Cubans. Others present were Frank Belcher, and Leroy Young, shown in the picture. Holt says that when he realized the photo was being taken, he started walking away. One anecdote Holt added to this New Orleans staged show was that they had to talk Oswald into going through with it, as he got cold feet as the time neared. Forensic artist Lois Gibson studied the New Orleans picture, and agrees that it is indeed Chauncey Holt.

She testified that the skull shape, ears, shoulders, elbows all fit the known photos of Holt. The photo she used was a still made by the television station crew in New Orleans in August 1963. She also forensically connected Holt with the older tramp in the Dealey Plaza photos taken on the day of the assassination.

She has successfully linked his nasal fold, nose, chin intersections, and ears with known photos of him and with the Dealey Plaza photos of the tramps.

Lois Gibson used her forensic expertise on photos of Charles Harrelson, as Holt identified him as being one of the tramps. She compared known photos of Harrelson with the Dealey Plaza tall tramp, and she concluded that it is indeed Charles Harrelson in the tramp photo. She came to this conclusion because of exact profile, wrinkles, mouth distance from the chin, mouth distance from the chin bone, nose, and ears.

In addition she has concluded that Harrelson's shaving habits are the same in both photos, and his side burns are only. one millimeter different from a mug shot of ten years ago. Finally, she states that a photo of an opposite face profile examined by her shows a mirror image of Charles Harrelson.

Wryly, she told the hushed audience that he is smiling in the tramp photo.

The third tramp identified by Holt is Charles Frederick Rogers, also known as 'Montoya" and "Rojas."

At this point, the audience was told that RogerS fled his parents' home as police arrived, and left his pistol in his room.

There is reason to believe that it was a CIA issued pistol.

It was very difficult finding photos of Rogers, as he was very careful not to have many left around. However, Houston Police were able to go back to his high school year book of 1939-'40 and his college picture taken at Sam Houston State,, i and use these to compare with the tramp photos. Gibson concluded the following, after analyzing the photos: the subject's nose, ears shape, and mouth are identical. Conclusive for Gibson, however, are: exact hair wave, nose shape is exact, eye sockets are exact, and shadows formed by the inside of his ears are exact. Finally, she detects an unusual gape in the walk of the tramp Holt says is Rogers.

Her conclusion is that the third tramp in the photo is indeed Charles Frederick Rogers. An anecdote told to the audience revealed the fact that Rogers' father worked as a bookie for none other than Carlos Marcello, in the Houston area. Another twist to this segment of the story is told to us by John Craig.

Eerily similar to the death of Gary Cradori death with V.P. George H.W. Bush ties also tied to US AID

Before returning to Franklin, Nebraska, Caradori called the committee chief, Senator Loran Schmit, to say he had the smoking gun. "We've got them! There's no way they can get out of it now!" He would be bringing home photographic evidence supporting the fantastic though reluctant testimony of the victimized teens. En route, his small plane exploded in midair, killing both him and his son. A farmer witnessed a flash of light and heard an explosion. That report made the early news, but subsequent stories said the plane exploded on impact. The wreckage was removed to a military base and ruled an accident, though the cause was not determined. His briefcase was never recovered.

The Soil Conservation Service of the Cheney family may have related to the agriculture programs of US AID helping end starvation in Asia. It is the Peace Corps, US AID, the CIA, and University of Hawia and Crane Group Suharto team said to have been CIA plans for Indonesia supporting an Obama family there.

Ted Gunderson is among those the FBI and CIA killed as they did Jen Moore for telling the truth of what I will now name the "Albert Conspiracy" that involved child abuse, child murders, murders of investigators and murders of witnesses. Jon Decam and William Colby of the CIA (both of them) died suspiciously and I Ed Donegan assert (and Ted Gunderson) assert Colby was murdered by the CIA and I assert after Gunderson died John Decamp's death should be viewed as a suspicious car accident that disabled him mentally first.

Jen More also telling the "Albert Conspiracy" was also found dead as was the family of Jeffery MacDonald and Marilyn Monroe and Sonny Bono I assert all these and more had connections to the CIA activities in Guatemala, Bermuda Dunes Airport, New Orleans, weapons trafficking and CIA overthrows. The Albert Conspiracy is out of wedlock connections to Prince Albert York had a genetic minimal brain disorder that can be diagnoses as ADHD, Dyslexia, Borderline Personality Disorder, and other complex diseases of the brain that amphetamines that psychiatrists were testing had a positive affect on.

Perhaps the most powerful figure in US Law Enforcement (far outranking Eliot Ness) was Ted Gunderson. He had better access to anyone (even more so than JKF) on the events of the assassination, the footprint of activity that utilized Marilyn Monroe, silenced Sonny Bono investigation the Mob, and contributed many other cover up theories.

I come from a family of two historically connected (all lives are historical, the events they are trapped in may or may not be noticed and they may or may not be noticed) and the history is with Joseph Kennedy Sr., his and Rose Fitzpatrick's children, their deaths including JFK and RFK, other deaths including Sonny Bono, and the McMartin preschools scandal some (Ted Gunderson) and others say were CIA connected, and George H.W. Bush connected like the Conspiracy of Silence case Ted Gunderson and CIA operatives William Colby and John DeCamp wrote about.

Ted Gunderson and General Sosbee and Ed Donegan and others have asserted Hispanic biker gangs, Satanic groups, drug dealers, and others work in close conjunction with the CIA and assassinated Sonny Bono and many others. At times Gunderson complained of "surveillances" used on him as others have of local thugs from various pools of them that might be drawn from. These thugs have clear support from the police and the police give them instructions while deny being linked to them.

Ted Gunderson was one of the defenders as law under Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy and love of the Kennedy family. Micheal Levon Kennedy, US Representative Sonny Bono wbo died nearly at the same time as Micheal Lavone Kennedy as was an oversight investigator from Palm Springs Nevada, of Marilyn Monroe close friend of the Kennedy family and though his career branched away from the Kennedy family as LBJ appointees and others affter that moved into top FBI spots in retirement Ted Gunderson went to work in Santa Monica California pursuing his theories McMartin School, Norma Jean, and CIA activities in that area that I and Jen Moore assert at connected to the NWO. To Prince Albert 1925 Speech Defect and the Albett Cospiracy?

SONNY Bono, former husband and singing partner of superstar Cher, was clubbed to death by hitmen on the orders of drug and weapons dealers who feared he was going to expose them, a former FBI agent claims.

Bob Fletcher had material first-hand information as was called as a witness by congresional investigators.

The press played the entire matter down and little politcal or legal interest followed in that matter.

Partially paragrpahed transcript of Bob Fletcher interview

Bob Fletcher CIA Bush Drug Ties Weather Wars Sonny Bono s Murder. Robert Fletcher owned a toy factory in 1985 and merged with a partner, Gary Best, to expand the business. Later, he found out Best was a high-ranking covert intelligence agent who intended to use the toy company [as made into a CIA US DOD "Proprietary Interest front company] for arms dealing with Iran-Contra, as well as Angola, West Africa, Afghanistan and Pakistan. He later testified in the Iran-Contra hearings on the various US Generals he encountered as was made a puppet of, the very figures of Iran Contra as it later broke as a story in the news and political scandal. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OK_J-onwUwc.

where our special guest for this next hour is going to be Bob Fletcher and Bob it had a lot of investigative reporting he actually makes videos I do talk radio Bob makes videos excellent if it did videos I think we carry just about all of them how are you doing tonight Bob okay and I'm pleased to be here all right fine well what are we going to talk about tonight we were going to talk a little bit about the strange death of Sonny Bono and then we can talk about really whatever you want to talk about but Bob is done a great deal of Investigation he knew Sonny he actually did.

I said a report to one of his reports to Sonny Bono who is going to actually to open investigation as soon as you got back from the ski trip but he never got back you pick up this story.

about well you know it's amazing today watching of course all of the attention that Michael Jackson's the performer has gotten with his death and it was a surprising you know surprise death 50 years old we'll have to wait to see what turns up to be the real reason for his death and maybe it was just a simple cardiac or maybe it was more than that maybe it was something else so what struck me personally is and I had been in the music business the earlier part of my life and say at a rather high level I was a promotion director for motion for MCA and Universal motion pictures and had been involved with a very high professional level an executive management in the record music business so I had a you know a special kind of a special feeling towards any of the performers that were really great and and of course Michael Jackson was a weather person likes him you know or thought much of his personal life and I which of course I know nothing about and most all of the stones but whether you liked him or not he's he was an extraordinary entertainer and but it bothered me to see the the amount of attention given to his death and of course there's the DEA drug enforcement is involved in it now and the FBI and of course the local police and got profusely involved with the investigation and looking into his death.

I had done a special report for congressman Sonny Bono and a few years back and had put it in his hands his my in fact that was at the request to his office I carried out the special investigation which was a very in-depth investigation into drug smuggling and murder and other related interfacing with them money laundering connected to it etc etera hold that thought we'll be right back on

Bob go ahead you were just hanging first that you had done these investigations and into drug segment again murder and curse there was a question of some even CIA involvement in this and so you carried out this investigation for congressman Sonny Bono and you had actually given him a copy of your ultimate video and report so go ahead.

right and the and the report the final report was done on a video and it was that there was a specific reason for that and that was it I had the extraordinary inclusive part of it extraordinary parts of it was that I actually had major drug warlords and drug smugglers themselves and high-level cartel persons the bookkeeper for the Median cartel the actual and in an interview of done by a friend of mine on the hill in pharma by the Burmese drug lord kun saw who had come forward and had actually named the names of people in the United States government at extremely high levels which included at that time a person who was the Assistant Secretary of State for the United States of America his name was Richard Armitage.

"Center for Strategic and International Studies mourns deeply the passing of a great friend and a remarkable national leader, Richard Armitage.

Rich served as deputy secretary of state in the George W. Bush administration, and earlier as an assistant secretary of defense in the Reagan and George H. W. Bush administrations. CSIS is proud that he served on the CSIS Board of Trustees for 15 years. Rich partnered with Dr. Joseph Nye to author a pathbreaking series of reports known as Nye-Armitage Reports. All dealt with the U.S.-Japan security relationship. The first Nye-Armitage Report was issued in 2000, and five subsequent reports were issued over the succeeding quarter century, with the most recent published in April 2024. All sponsored by CSIS, these reports chart the remarkable growth of this essential security partnership, a cause which united these policy leaders and shaped an era. Secretary Armitage never failed to offer his assistance for any Asia-related project undertaken by CSIS. He was a towering figure in the Asia security policy community. Rich Armitage was a courageous policy leader, a true patriot, and a loyal friend. We will miss him greatly."

He was named specifically by Kuhn saw the drug exporter one of the biggest drug exporters in the entire world and this was all done on live videotape for for the report I did to Sonny.

So when Sonny finally got to review it and go into it in depth he actually had it for a few months before they got back to me and when he his office got back to me I was living in Los Angeles at the time they called me and they said Sonny was was livid that he was he couldn't believe the the extent of high-level involvement in narcotics and it was just making him crazy and that he was going to begin within only a couple of weeks he was going to open up an extraordinary in-depth investigation by the congressional intelligence committee and they had already set up in advance the ability to have subpoena powers they were going to be able to subpoena people directly and bring them to the floor of the United States Congress before the Intelligence Committee and they were going to finally do an investigation that should have been done years earlier.

myself and other persons that tried several times and attempted to get a level hold on I'll be right back here well this is dr. Stan and Bobby's is from be commenting on the on the drama surrounding the tragic death of Michael Jackson an excellent entertainer but almost daring a hero's death unfortunately for probably related to overuse of drugs everything points in that direction but I said need a contrast out then with the death of Congressman Sonny Bono and of course Bob had been working with Congressman Bono the attack repelled Chris actually prepared a report form and congressman Bono was going to actually get a cold congressional hearings going into the involvement of the CIA and key people in in the government in the drug trade and certainly there was some footage in this report which we actually carry my BOB pleasure on drugs going into the fact that the one of the major people behind the drug for trade in the United States according to a man named Kuhn saw who headed the the Golden Triangle area there and in Burma well man was Richard Armitage now I sure did nothing was mentioned the fact of Richard Armitage is part of the ruling elite that he said with at the time when he was identified as a bench being in charge of the buying of the drugs there and from from Burma why offici was working the White House today is a member of the Trilateral Commission has been a member for many years but Sonny Bono was going to investigate all of this he had the ability to subpoena people and called them to he'll come before Congress to testify and so pick up the story there Bob a nd so the finally Sonny did go over it and over the report and decided to move forward this would have been without a doubt not only the biggest thing that Sonny had ever done in his political career which by the way had started to be very very positive he was doing some some good work and he had been well respected up on the hill people originally of course a little bit of a joke when he first went up there but they had turned their heads around in the right direction and he was doing a very good job.

he was had decided to move on with this investigation now I had received my phone call approximately some time around I believe about the 21st or the 15th of the December or something like that and the telephone call was from a fella named Frank Collins who was actually running Sonny's offices for him pretty much the the main character there at the Washington DC offices for Sonny and he said well hey Bob this is the first thing on this calendar when we come back from the Christmas holidays which he said we were about to take off here in a couple of days they will be gone for a few weeks two weeks or something like that typical Christmas holiday for the United States Congress and the first thing when we get back is going to be the investigation Sonny's ready to go and nothing's going to stop him and we're going to be under way they asked me if I was ready to come into Washington if necessary myself and could I supply them with any and additional information and backup on the rest of my report and I said absolutely I was ready to do it I was enthused.

I was very excited and the idea of extraordinarily serious inquiry into major persons in our government by the way both Republican and Democratic had nothing to do with parties because they span both parties and both parties at the highest level had been involved with money laundering drug smuggling and murders assassination and was all interfaced together and there was again as I say live on our report which I did for Sonny there are statements by a very high level drug operatives themselves that explain who they work for and how and what they were doing so the we hung up the telephone I I was overwhelmed with with the idea that we were going to move forward in such a grandiose manner and son-of-a-gun ten days later I like everyone else sitting in front of my television and Sonny Bono was dead on the ski slopes and of course they told us that he had run into the trees and of course with myself my very first thought was this is I mean that what kind of a coincidence was this this is so extraordinary and very few people die from running into trees on a ski slope is you actually according to official records you can die or easily buy or more likely that you will die by being struck by lightning in the United States they're dying on a ski slope.

I immediately called Frank Cohen the person with whom I was dealing on a regular basis in Sonny's office and to my may be surprised and maybe not surprised he would never take my phone call this is a gentleman with whom I had worked for a couple of years and on a regular basis if I was into Washington for some reason or another I would stop by even if it wasn't just to see him but I would stop in and with look him up but we'd have a cup of coffee or lunch or something together and all of a sudden now he will no longer take my telephone call and that was as of three days after Sonny's death so instantly my concerns with the fact that Sonny maybe have been stopped before doing his investigation became very serious I started looking into things.

I did the best I could and I kept running into more and more hurdles that I have to jump and me and being stopped by every possible direction when I got into investigating I did finally without getting into the whole thing which of course is available on a new DVD that we've put out recently matter of fact both the reports that I gave the sunny and the new report on Sunny's murder is is available for anybody that's interested but to get back to the story itself as I got looking into it and I actually finally was able to get ahold of the autopsy now this is one of the reasons that really had pushed me in the direction to spend so much time and effort on this thing and that was the fact that the the autopsy was being very secretive they they were not releasing it even to Sonny's own mother she had a heck of a time getting a copy of the autopsy and I ended up working with her as is Sonny's mother's attorney and with her assistants and and others that were involved with it I did finally get the autopsy and when I went over the autopsy I was open to the fact I said okay I'm going to go over this with a clear mind and see if in fact this is obviously an accident and he did run into a tree well then it was just an act of God and and I would stand down.

but what happened was just the opposite when I got into the autopsy on the very first page there was a bits and pieces that didn't fit and then it was like second page third grade fourth fifth sixth and and as we went through the autopsy was every single page of the autopsy did not fit into the idea that Sonny simply lost his way and smacked a tree and I'm absolutely positive after completing my secondary report and investigation on Sonny's death that he was in fact murdered to stop that major inquiry that he was about to begin in the United States Congress.

and it's just pease right after another when you go over at all and we were able to get the actual live footage upon the ski slope taken a of the where where he had had is theoretically it had his accident and that even shows to be almost an impossibility that he could have run into the tree in the manner that they showed then there was all sorts of small bits and pieces like a tremendous amount of blood on the back of his coat and his jacket and his clothing a huge amount of blood that soaked through all three layers of clothing on the back and there was no injury to his back so that meant the blood that extra extreme amount of blood came from someone else.

and I believe it came from one of possibly two people that had accosted and grabbed honey and had struck him I'm positive the laboratory test that we carried out indicates that he was probably killed I'm almost positive by being pistol-whipped in the head by a person who was left-handed facing him straight on and someone else holding and grappling and holding him with in the fact and probably got a bloody nose sufficiently to make that extraordinary strange amount of blood on the back of Sonny's jacket.

and then it goes on and on my report shows many many specifics that would just completely prove the case that Sonny was murdered now and of course the timing that speaks for itself it was extraordinary bad coincidence if in fact he was only another four or five days he was going to be returning and beginning the investigation into drug smuggling and money laundering at a high level of our own government.

Sonny Bono to out Richard Armitage (Colin Powell under secretary) in CIA drug running, call in Intelligence Community investigators

C:\Users\eddonegan\OneDrive\Documents\AlistBooks\Book Internals\GreatTreason\Texas.html:482: Lehel later hacked Colin Powell's website and accessed years' worth of his correspondence from another AOL account. The correspondence included personal financial information as well as e-mails to George Tenet, Richard Armitage, and John Negroponte.[7] Through six months of trial and error, Lehel guessed the password of Romanian politician Corina Crețu and gained access to her correspondence with Powell.[5]

Sonny had been involved with chasing other similar situations in terms of investigating uh drugs and this was the first chance that he had to do it at at such a high level with the ability to subpoena those people that were involved we had uncovered money laundering trail the money laundering of millions of dollars and all we had all the specific information I even had bank account numbers and transfers of drugs money in and out at the highest level of our government we even have a situation that I had discovered and all of the paperwork trail showing where the United States Treasury had made direct financial deposits into drug operations I thought oh I'll be right back [Music] Babur go right ahead well the the reason that I mentioned at the beginning that I mentioned the the Michael Jackson situation with them showing such a tremendous amount of interest in his death and and of course we had the same thing with the Elvis Presley's death and and turned out that his was probably his death was probably brought on by the narcotic overuse but that was not my my concern or my personal feeling as much as as the idea that there was so much attention given to these performers who have had these unusual deaths when in fact we were unable to get any assistance with major media with the fact that Sonny Bono was murdered my report is something that if things were being done straight we would have police the appropriate policing agencies whether it was the FBI or Secret Service or and of course the sheriff who originally did the investigating it's still the sheriff so he's not very cooperative at all he's been polite but he's not being cooperative the district attorney prosecuting district attorney in that area also been polite but not cooperative at all so and of course his office which was taken taken over by his wife after his death they're not being very helpful at all and sunny sunny air was about to file divorce according to statements that have been made by people that knew him including attorneys that knew both of them that they were about to have it go into a divorce well in that case his wife would have gotten whatever she would have got twenty-five or fifty percent of of whatever was there but in terms of their household had they split but as it turned out with the death particularly an accidental death of the congressman of course his wife got everything and she ended up being able to assume is a congressional office and is now in that position so the cooperation there is absolutely zero so and what bothered me again to get back to it you have so much of the singh investigative and interest in the death of Michael Jackson and some other major performers also at General at the Carradine David to John Carradine David Carradine that died and they had the complete investigation on his death and I cannot get anyone to move forward with the Sonny Bono investigation and if you go over my my my DVD reports the one I sent to him to Sonny and which I believe caused his death and the one that we finished investigating him if you go over that and you and if a person can look you straight in the face and say that they still think it was an accident then because they've been drinking I mean you just there's no way that you can go over my final investigation and still say and believe that it was an accident up on the ski slope it's just outrageous and they're actually of course he was killed or not on the ski slope he was actually over in the trees some distance away how would you gotten off the major ski slope a hundred feet off there you know where all sorts of trees and rocks and and everybody there is no way you could have easily skied in that area hold on we'll be back here in just him but with Bob Fletcher well this is dr. Stan I guess this evening Bob Fletcher who's prepared a great video report on the death of Sonny Bono which we carry we also carried the other report going into the CIA and drugs and involvement people at the highest levels of the American government it was that based upon that report that Sonny was going to open congressional investigations and subpoena people going into the background that the CIA is involved in the drug smuggling everybody in the world knows that see the CIA is involved the drug smuggling other than the American people this is totally blocked out by the media but certainly if we've talked to people from other countries they understand what's going on they understand it on one hand America has a war on drugs on the other hand America at least the the dark side of our intelligence agencies are creating a hundreds of millions of dollars perhaps billions of dollars to fund black operations throughout the world from the drug trade and a Christian drugs are very expensive because we have priests actually are involved and in their growth of the distribution why simply what we control Afghanistan have we steadfastly refused to try to destroy the opium crop there and when the wicked Taliban were in power why it was very little with the way of opium being grown now that the heroic American forces are there why they had the biggest opium crops that they've ever had why is that happening well Sonny Bono was going to ask a lot of embarrassing questions and but of course he had never got a chance to call for the congressional investigations he he died on the ski slopes but where he actually died was a long way away from the regular ski run wasn't a bomb well yes and no it's it's basically yes you have to you have the the ski slope itself which of course is is a clear terrain with plenty of space both left to right as you're going down any of the ski slope hills there and and skiing but the the area where he was found was a hundred and twenty one hundred feet to 120 feet inside the tree line off to the to the right of where he was going down now so in terms of whether it was a regular ski slope no but people do go in and around and about the the tree area but when you do that first off the big this is an important point you know you don't do it fast you can't do it fast it's one of these things we're a really a highly skilled skier which by the way sunny was sunny was considered a being and not just good but expert he was really good and and I like myself I can't ski worth it darn I've done it a couple times and was smart enough to not go back but the the area where he was found it's impossible to go fast enough to just smack the tree hard enough with a bigger thought big enough velocity to just kill yourself would be very very difficult it might happen but very difficult and but it eliminates the idea that because somebody had erroneously written once or twice in a few news releases that he had just drifted off maybe he was going high-speed and drifted off and struck a tree well that's not the case he was like you mentioned not on the regular slope itself but a hundred 120 feet inside the tree line so he didn't just veer off to the left or the right and smack a tree at a high speed well weren't there some other trees around there down that he really would have had to have gone over before he could hit the tree absolutely that was a and it's very it's unbelievably visible on again after Tasha took me some six months to get a hold of the footage but we were able to get the footage it was shot the exact tree the location and the surrounding area that was shot absolutely physically the day after when the Sun came up and there was still the yellow police tape up and all of that accident scene tape that was up around on the trees where he the tree that he theoretically struck there's a handful of things that were just didn't make sense at the site one of them was if there was a large like an 18-inch diameter tree a big old thing that was a log that it was now down and laying horizontally right in front of the tree that he theoretically struck so he would have had to have hit and it was quite snow-covered but not enough that you can't see it and he would have had to would have struck that first then there were boulders and and rocks and things around in several other parts surrounding this particular group of trees and and then also there was even a push on one part of it and so somehow they tried to tell us that he still struck this tree at such a velocity that it killed him instantly and also very important and even the sheriff admitted it and we have that on videotape the sheriff and also the autopsy verified and the only the sheriff says on a live video which we have included in our report that Sonny apparently never put his hands up to stop himself from running into the tree now it strikes me as if that unto itself should have been a sufficient red flag for somebody to say hey let's look at this thing carefully that doesn't make sense and that's not counting other technical parts of the autopsy that didn't fit and of course the blood on his back which does not fit because he had no wounds on his back but the idea that anyone can be skiing at any velocity faster - that looks like you're going to hit a tree you automatically by natural response you will automatically put your hands up in front of your face if a particularly going in a head on into a tree if you there were no wounds to his hands whatsoever to indicate that it that it appeared he had done that therefore both the sheriff and the autopsy the the doctor that did the autopsy both specifically said that apparently he did not try to fend off the tree collision with his hands that's ridiculous all right for starters that day that just does not make sense and if he was my son or if he was my brother or if he was my husband etc I would certainly want somebody to look more closely into his death just on the basis of those points and again like I said the location was such that was almost impossible to reach any high speed then when you look closely at the autopsy I find out that in fact he had no trauma to his neck and many people most people as a matter of fact that when they run into you if you have an automobile accident or if you run into a tree at a high enough velocity on a motorcycle or you run into it on skis most people actually die or are seriously injured because of trauma to the neck you either get a broken neck or you get a serious many people end up being crippled and it's from the broken neck and of course the spine spinal cord being affected from the head being jerk slammed fact Sonny had no no injury to his neck at all no trauma to his neck now if someone strikes you with a pistol if you are pistol-whipped or if you would hit with a blackjack or a pipe or a fire and bar or anything like that or a fire poker from the fireplace or something like that the person's hitting the head a couple of times violently that will kill you but it will not necessarily give you the trauma to the neck that you will get 95% of the time if you ran into a tree fast enough to kill yourself so that was another point of the autopsy that was outrageous besides the blood on the back with no injury and then also the injury was described as on and it was sort of to the right upper forehead in that area to the to the head sort of to the frontal area of the forehead and the right side and what was very important in the autopsy a small technical point maybe but that the bone was described where it was actually in this skull that were described as having a couple of places that were of a curved and a curvature of the phone itself where he had supposedly struck the tree well the reality is if you strike a tree with an 18 24 inch diameter and you're wearing a wool cap and you smack if the chances of you getting indented circular curvature intentions in the skull it is almost impossible and particularly the size and there was the particular size with such that it would fit the front barrel of a 45 gun if you were pistol-whipped but it certainly will not fit in the diameter of an 18 inch diameter tree so that was another bizarre little point that was right there in the paperwork still was in the paperwork and nobody seems to care additionally the Hat that I referred to which was a wool ski cap type hat that sunny was worried I had disappeared it never even arrived apparently at the doctor's office for the autopsy someplace between the time that sunny theoretically struck the tree and the time that his body arrived for the investigative autopsy the hat he was wearing vanished now that's very important because number one it would prove the other side's point by showing possibly bled blood and and particulate matter on the inside of the little knitted hat or you know wool cap oh and also possibly wood debris from the bark on the outside but with the hat gone the cat gone ski cap with it just vanishing we do not have it for evidence we do not have the the goggle so they've also disappeared someplace along the line that also would have shown because he was wearing got the typical snow goggles and those would have been broken or whatever the case was but they're gone also they vanished and don't show up on the inventory of food so and then even there's another small point that's never been proven that was brought to my attention by the lawyer that was working with Sonny's mother and that was that there appears to be a special ring that Sonny always wore had been wearing it for years he had had it made for himself particularly several years earlier as a pinky finger ring and apparently that's gone that did not show up in the inventory either now whether somebody it would carry out a assassination for hire they paid hit whether one of those guys involved with that took that ring with him when he it killed Sonny or not I don't know that's again another piece of evidence evidentiary and material goods that absolutely has disappeared and apparently was not with the inventory at all well why did the sheriff and the district attorney refused to investigate any further if you raised the question that this sort of thing had certainly earmarks of a murder rather than an accident okay I don't I don't know and again the first one point let's let's put it this way if the the this year by the way the sheriff is still there the sheriff that carried out the investigation and I can briefly read you the letter that was sent to myself after that I brought these points forward to them he sent them in his letter to me says dear mr. Fletcher I have received your request for a copy of our investigative reports surrounding the death of Sonny Bono at heavenly Ski Resort I am prohibited by law from releasing certain documents associated with deaths that occur in this county see now that's true and that there's a separate point that I'll mention in just a moment he goes on and saying specifically I cannot release autopsy reports and medical reports of the deceased the only document that I can provide you is the coroner's official record if you desire that report I will send it to you he also went on and says finally I must tell you that there was nothing in our investigation to suggest that mr. Bono's death was anything but an accident accidents such as as accidents such as that are quite common in the Tahoe area additionally because of the status of mr. boneau we took additional precautions to ensure the accuracy of the coroner's investigation period and that's it they never went any farther beyond that with any manner at all now I had requested from the sheriff I had requested all of the autopsy at cetera et cetera now what he did not know when he reached wrote this to me was that I already had all of the autopsy in general I already had that it had been supplied to me through the the attorney and that was part of the original inquiry for mrs. bono Sonny's mother so I already had all of that I was just trying to find out because there were other little bits and pieces of documentation such as interviews by the witnesses of the people that had found the body where they found it when they found it how they found it and things of that sort I was trying to get that but for him to say for example that they had gone into is taking special additional precautions to ensure accuracy that's ridiculous because I was having the the coroner's complete investigation I know that they didn't that was baloney why in the world that he would even say that or because I must say this also no other investigation by any law enforcement ever took place in Sonny's case not the Secret Service not the FBI or any other office other than the Douglas County Sheriff's Department they're the only ones that did it that and the sheriff Ron and Parini they that was it so there was no extra special didn't bring anybody else in to go over this or anything so that's a line of baloney the statement it's accidents like this happen all the time is that his statement was actions such as that are quite common I don't know how common it is number one that somebody dies because the truth is there's only one out of like 50 million skiers a year that guy 1 out of 50 million does not sound like a common thing and for him of course to to equate the death of a congressman as being common is also ludicrous so why I don't know and likewise I must say this I had gotten a hold of the district attorney they were pretty much the same way they were very polite but they did not cooperate I did get from the district attorney's office a list of the inventory of goods that were found on the body and that was partly where we discovered number one that the that the Hat and the glasses were gone the goggles and the Hat were gone I had already noticed that they did not show up in the inventory of the autopsy and they did not show up at the police of the report so some place that's vanished nobody seems to care about that nobody seems to care about the fact that a congressman of the United States government about to get into a major investigation was dead up on the ski slopes under unusual situation it's it's bewildering I can't like it said originally when we started the program yet all of this unbelievable attention for a rock and roll singer not to take anything away from Michael Jackson as a performer or any of these other folks but to have that amount of attention and to not be able to get anyone I haven't even haven't even had anybody seriously challenged me you know I just totally open up the door I don't necessarily want somebody just just say oh well you're right and go along with what I said I haven't even had anybody challenge me there's nobody at major media not a congressman not a senator not a police agency not an officer anybody has stepped forward and it could be for good reason if you're going to challenge me then you're going to have to listen and and go over what I've done so interesting thing is that if you totally ignore you why nobody would know there's a problem in the they challenge you that these is a controversy if they ignore you why because your message will be lost forever that's right I I would rather have somebody come forward at a high-level of their of whatever whether it's law enforcement or newspapers or whatever major media of any sort and have them say you know mr. Fletcher you are completely nuts it's all I would need that then let me respond you know let me respond to that kind of a statement or if I'm out in left field someplace let me respond to that kind of a statement because we've had none of it at all and like you said if you totally do if you just ignore it then you don't have to answer any questions or ask any questions that may give good answers because the investigations we've done totally stand on their own and I I invite everybody that's listening if you have not seen our report if you have not seen the report on the drugs connections to the CIA and other agencies or you haven't seen the Sonny Bono investigations you've got to get them and get a look at them it's imperative and then I also invite you to send a copy to any senator any congressman any police agency that you know anyone at all that could help us out you send a copy to to them and let's see what happens with it but it's a the idea that it's just been totally ignored is it's just yeah whatever it's a bewildering well you know her senator Wellstone and challenge the the bush administration as far as going into Afghanistan that is a plane that and everyone on it was killed in December of 2001 I said we know that Senator Tower who was former Secretary of Defense who was raising a lot of serious questions why he died in airplane crash we know congressman Larry McDonald actually in kaal Korean flight 701 they did find the flight the the plane there were no bodies in it no bodies no luggage how could that possibly be because you've never heard these stories and we can go down the line of the worst case of Ron Brown a former Secretary of Commerce went oh and they had a bullet hole in his head supposed to be died in an airplane crash so it would be right back well you got three minutes to wrap up the program Bob well like I said I sincerely invite anybody that anybody at all that cares even if you just even if you just like Sonny and Cher as a performing group and it bothers you or if your have a spot in your heart for honesty and and want to help out get a copy either get a copy from from Stan or get a copy by contacting us here at Bob Fletcher's investigations calm and we'll be glad to send the DVD investigations to you and then you make your own decision but thank you Josh i I don't know when when you can get away with murder just on a regular basis and so many of these events have taken place and people have been able to get away with murder for so long if it's very scary I don't know what kind of a future the the country has when you have the ability up there out of Washington DC to just kill people that are causing problems and then stamp their investigations top secret so nobody else can look into it well listen thanks a lot Stan god bless you and you keep up the good work that you're doing and I look forward to coming back and we'll talk about one of these other outrageous investigations again sometimes god bless thanks very much Bob always a pleasure to have you with us thank you
